

Pegasus Reed Sales To Begin; Price: Quarter

The Reed, college literary publication edited by Pegasus, English honor society, will go on sale Wednesday, May 20, according to Dr. James Wood, society adviser.

The annual magazine will be sold at 25 cents per copy at booths on campus.

"Most of the material is obtained from manuscripts that were submitted to the Phelan contest last month, but editors of Reed make their selections independent of the choices made by the Phelan judges," he said.

Dr. Wood said awards to the winners of the Phelan contest will not be announced until after Reed has been published.

The Reed is sent to a selected list of teachers of creative writing and editors of literary magazines throughout the nation.

"In the six years that the magazine has been published it has received increasing recognition and fine comments from everyone who comes into contact with it," he remarked.

Dr. Wood pointed out that the magazine is subsidized by the Student Council.

Silent Chimes Bit Confusing

Students, who sit in class and figure out how much of the period is left by the ringing of the tower chimes at 15-minute intervals, were slightly confused yesterday when the bells were silent until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

According to Byron Bollinger, superintendent of construction and maintenance for the college, there was no rhyme or reason for the chimes not working. "We just plugged them in," he said. "It might have been a prank of some kind," Bollinger added.

Interview Deadline Set by Daily Staff

This afternoon from 1:30 o'clock on will be the last opportunity for candidates in the May 8 election to be interviewed by the Spartan Daily, Ted Faley, editor of the paper announced yesterday.

Candidates Bill Eckert, Dee Jukich, Chuck Bucaria, Bill Maher, and Cathy Carey have not contacted the Daily as yet, Faley disclosed. None of the AWS candidates have been interviewed.

Ike's Economy Plans Reduce Armed Forces

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Eisenhower Administration's economy plans call for reducing the strength of the armed forces by almost 200,000 men during the fiscal year starting July 1, Pentagon officials said yesterday.

Natural Science Department Shows Demonstration During Open House

A demonstration period, starting at 2:30 p.m. will start activities in the Natural Science open house Thursday.

Feature of the period will be a demonstration of high frequency electricity by Dr. O. L. Brauer, professor of chemistry.

Various animals and insects will be on display during the open house, according to Dr. Ralph A. Smith, associate professor of zoology.

A pair of box constrictors from Central America are included in the display, and there is a strong possibility that the female snake is pregnant, Dr. Smith said.

Although the snakes have been mated for some time, there is no way of knowing for sure and no record of the length of the period of pregnancy, Dr. Smith said.

All students and faculty members are invited to attend the open house. The building will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 10 p.m.

Paul Sakamoto, student representative for the open house, reports that student departments and organizations have given splendid cooperation in setting up the displays for the annual affair.

The department is expecting over 9,000 persons to attend the day-long program. To help the event run more smoothly the Spartan Shields, and Spartan Spears, are acting as guides.

The Shields have distributed over 150 signs throughout Santa Clara county, which they had printed, Sakamoto said.

Lecture Group Calls Speaker 'Outstanding'

The college Lecture committee has scheduled another outstanding speaker to appear at the college, it was announced yesterday.

Bohus Benes, internationally-known diplomat will speak on "The Russification of the Soviet Orbit," Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock in Morris Dailey auditorium.

Benes, who is the brother of the former Edward Benes, president of Czechoslovakia, served for many years in the diplomatic corps of Czechoslovakia in 1949 he resigned his position as Council General in San Francisco, when his brother allegedly was assassinated by Communists.

Benes presently is a member of the teaching staff of the college extension division, instructing a course in "Russia Today" at Parks Air Force base. Harold H. Seyferth, coordinator of extension services, arranged for the lecturer to appear here.

Plans to Deans

Reorganization plans for the Student Court have been submitted to the Personnel Deans' committee, according to Bob Roberts, chief justice.

Roberts refused to predict whether or not the plan will be approved by the committee.

College Advisory Board Thanks Campus for Inaugural Turnout

To the Faculty and Students of San Jose State College:

We, the five members of the College Advisory board who served on the Inauguration Committee, wish to express to the faculty and students our deep appreciation for their splendid cooperation with the committee. We wish to acknowledge not only the work that was done so effectively and so thoroughly in planning for this event but also the participation of so many faculty members and students in the events of Inauguration Day.

May we assure all those who assisted in this enterprise that the relations between the college and the community have been strengthened immeasurably and that it is our conviction that this friendly spirit of cooperation will continue in the years ahead. It has been a privilege and a pleasure to become acquainted with and to work with so many members of the college "family" and we wish to continue this close relationship in the future.

J.C. A Cappella Choir Groups Tour Campus on Music Festival

The college played host to the Northern California Junior College festival yesterday, greeting 485 music students from ten junior colleges.

Twelve choirs attended the festival, according to W. Gibson Walters, associate professor of music, who acted as local chairman in scheduling the day's events for the visiting students.

The choir groups performed during the day in Morris Dailey auditorium, and in addition, the groups serenaded several State students throughout the campus.

After a short welcoming speech in the morning by Dr. James C. DeVoss, substituting for President

John T. Wahlquist, the groups were taken on a tour of the new Music building. After the tour they had dinner at the First Methodist church and in the evening were guests of the college A Cappella choir, who presented a musical program under the direction of William Erlendson, associate professor of music.

Doctor Loses Robes in Rush

A college professor with five degrees could be expected to be especially absent-minded.

Dr. Dorothy Kaucher, who brought honors to the college by topping many other delegates at the inauguration of President Wahlquist with her five degrees—A.B., B.S., M.A., B.J., and Ph.D., this week is minus all her academic regalia.

In the confusion following the ceremonies Dr. Kaucher accompanied a friend to the stand where rented caps and gowns were being returned. Dr. Kaucher returned her cap and gown also. Only she didn't have to—the cap and gown are her own.

Today Dr. Kaucher's cap and gown are among some 360 or more academic robes on their way to a Los Angeles cleaning establishment. It will be some weeks before she has the valuable garments in her possession, but the cleaners shouldn't have any trouble identifying the robe. Not with all those stripes!

Inner Quad Ruled Out For Graduation Services

The inner-quad was ruled out yesterday as a possible site for baccalaureate ceremonies by Dean James C. DeVoss, chairman of the commencement board.

In an informal talk to the Senior Class Council, Dean DeVoss explained that the inner-quad would not hold the expected crowd.

"It is the president's wish," the dean said, "that we have this year's ceremonies in the Men's gym."

The seniors expressed disapproval of the Men's gym. They suggested other possible sites such as the turf by the Woman's gym and Rose Ann Gardens, but each suggestion was turned down by Dean DeVoss.

"We want to keep baccalaureate an institutional function," he said, "keeping it on the campus."

JUNIOR CLASS

Barbara Roach and Cathy Carey, candidates for the office of Senior representative presented their platforms to the Junior class council yesterday in Room 33 at 3:30 p.m.

May 20 was the date set by the class for the Junior council dinner, which is to be held at the Italian restaurant, 175 San Augustine street.

Large Group Competing for AWS Offices

"The 13 women competing for Associated Women Students' offices comprise one of the largest, if not the largest, slate of candidates since I became adviser to the group nine years ago," Mrs. Izetta Pritchard, housing director, said yesterday.

"However, it is the first time that we have had a presidential candidate who is uncontested," Mrs. Pritchard continued.

Mrs. Pritchard explained that presidential candidates are chosen from members of the AWS cabinet, and the cabinet is representative of all the women's groups on the campus.

"Each female member of the student body is a member of AWS," Mrs. Pritchard disclosed, "and a separate ballot is issued to women students on election day."

"Response has been good in past elections, and I hope the women students maintain their good record," Mrs. Pritchard declared.

Candidates for AWS offices are:

President:

1. Darlene Clayton.

First vice-president:

1. Carol Galli.

2. Joan Harlan.

3. Alberta Martin.

Second vice-president:

1. Carol Callender.

2. Donna Harkleroad.

Secretary:

1. Janet Adams.

2. Barbara Bococco.

3. Karin Johnson.

4. Jan Wilson.

Treasurer:

1. Phyllis Carter.

2. Enid Harte.

3. Ethel Oeser.

4. Sue Ann Zimmerman.

Cliff Harrington, photo editor of the Spartan Daily, asked that the AWS candidates appear at B95 at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon for pictures.

Gown Fitting Limit Today

Today is the deadline for seniors to be measured for caps and gowns, Roland Atkinson, manager of the Spartan shop, reports.

Representatives from the Cap and Gown company of California will be in the shop from 8 a.m. until 4:45 p.m. to take the measurements.

Measurements will not be taken unless students pay the $3.50 rental fee and $2 deposit, totaling $5.50, Atkinson said.

SOPHOMORE

Final plans for this Friday's Sophomore-Junior Council mixer were revealed to Soph class members at yesterday's meeting.

The mixer will be held at Club Almaden from 1:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m., for council members only.

Council members running for ASB offices introduced themselves and presented their platforms. Speaking were Bob Goforth, nominee for junior class representative; Art Lund, male representative-at-large; and Carol Hotchkiss and Betty Wiser, female representative-at-large.

FRESHMAN

The Freshman class met yesterday to discuss further plans for the forthcoming Freshman Frolic.

One of the main features at the Frolic will be a ruling couple chosen from a "Joe College and Mary Co-Ed" contest to be held soon.

Bill Kennedy, Freshman class president, invites all freshmen interested in helping with the planning and preparations to attend the class meetings.

We Thank You, Gentlemen

Over the weekend the realization came that the inauguration of Dr. John T. Wahlquist Friday was a success. Students strolled on campus this morning knowing that they had taken part in one of the most impressive occasions in the history of the college.

The weekend started with a successful reception honoring visiting delegates. That was followed by an equally successful banquet.

The inaugural ceremonies Friday morning were a booming climax to the weekend.

Following in order that afternoon were similarly successful luncheon, symposium, reception and inaugural ball.

But all this didn't just happen. Behind this series of inaugural successes was a lot of long-range planning and hard work by a committee of public-minded businessmen.

Modestly they thank the college, its students and faculty, for cooperation. (See letter, Page 1.)

Gentlemen, it is we who thank you. You have done an invaluable service to the college, both in improving relations between the college and city and in boosting the prestige of the college in the eyes of the educational world.

Thank you, again, gentlemen. We are indebted.

Relay Entries

Organizations planning to enter the Pushcart relays May 29 must submit entry blanks to Lambda Chi Alpha, sponsors, no later than Thursday.

Bob Hambly, director of relays, reports entry blanks have been given to every living group on campus. Further information may be obtained by calling the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity house, CY7-9989.

Classes Build Model Display

Models of the Civic auditorium, showing layout of the industrial arts show, have been constructed by two classes in design, reports Wayne E. Champion, instructor in industrial arts.

The show is the Santa Clara county exhibit of the national Ford Motor company industrial arts awards, to be held May 22 and 23 in the Civic auditorium.

Ideas for the full scale layout will be taken from the models. They will be submitted to the committee planning the show today.

The miniature show displays in minute detail. One model has people the size of pins walking about looking at the tiny displays.

Models are mounted on plywood and are constructed from cardboard, plastic, and small blocks of wood no bigger than match sticks and toothpicks.

Tau Delta Phi Initiates Largest Pledge Group

Tau Delta Phi, men's honorary scholastic fraternity, informally initiated the largest pledge class in its history Saturday, Apr. 25, according to Rodger Over, grand magistrate.

Formal initiation of the 50 pledges will be held May 16 following three weeks of pledge activities.

Members of the Tau Delta Phi must have fulfilled the following requirements: 60 units completed with a 2.0 grade point average; a written recommendation from three faculty members; and personal fitness.

Members of the pledge class, according to Over, are Harold Aga-

Office Seeker Lists Abilities

Bill Eckert stresses his membership in a variety of student organizations as an indication of his ability to represent all students if elected to the office of student body vice president.

He has been president of the Sophomore class, Camp Miniwanka delegate and committee member, Freshman Camp counselor and director; is a member of Spartan Shields, the Rally committee, Blue Key, and was on the Homecoming committee. He is listed in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

For the past two quarters Eckert has watched the Student Council at work while serving as student body parliamentarian. He served as Sophomore justice for a year, and knows the powers and limitations of the Student Court, he says.

He adds that if elected he will carry out a program which will establish the powers, limitations and rules of the Student Activities board.

Home Hazards

Over 27,000 deaths a year occur in the home.

"Is your home a hazard?" is the title of the exhibit appearing in the Home Economics building this week. According to Elva Cobeen, who designed the project, the display shows some of the hazards of the home which should be guarded against.

Thrust and Parry

What Is Democracy?

Dear Thrust and Parry:

What is Democracy? With the current controversial discussions going on in the Spartan Daily concerning the Rutgers letter and discrimination in general, I can no longer hold my peace. It would be unnatural and inhuman, indeed, were I or my friends to isolate ourselves from the existing situation. We have come from a country where the fight between two ideologies and economic systems, Communism and Western Democracy, has just about reached the point of saturation. The climax and denouement are in the near future. We have been subjected and have listened to arguments from both sides. We have the choice of accepting one and rejecting the other.

There are about one thousand Iranian students in this country, now, including myself. We feel we have been most fortunate in being able to come here and study in your country. We can see your democracy for ourselves—first hand—and can, therefore, make empirical judgments concerning the functional effectiveness of this system. Eventually, we will go back to our country and will take back with us the experiences and opinions gained in this country and of this country. I often wonder just what kind of opinions will be taken back to Iran when the students return home. Is racial, religious, and national segregation and discrimination a part of this democracy?—discrimination which occasionally has involved us, too.

If the answer is to be in the negative, this brings up another question: Why are there no effective laws which would make discrimination a crime, as it is in some countries. For it is obvious that discrimination is practiced widely, sometimes consciously, sometimes unconsciously. Nevertheless, in whatever form it takes, is it not a direct and sharp contradiction to the principles of democracy?

I have come to this conclusion: some people in the United States have become no more than mere tools through which the devilish and misguided purposes of a minority are being accomplished.

However, the situation, is not without hope. When we return to our country, we shall keep in mind that there are those in the United States who are conscious of the problem, understand the facts, and who are using their knowledge to combat the malignant effects of the forces of discrimination.

We will certainly praise your tremendous and gigantic industrial development, your highly efficient transportation system, and your other technological advances when we return to Iran. But there will be uncertainty in our minds as to just what is democracy?

More Women

Dear Disillusioned Gentleman:

In regard to your little article. The flowers of Sparta probably were so surprised and shocked that they didn't know exactly what to do. Usually the fellows throw the doors at the girls and expect the girls to catch the doors. This, the fellows believe, is politeness.

When a fellow actually opens a door, I believe most of the girls are polite enough to say, "Thank you."

Granted that some girls would just as soon open their own doors; but the majority of the girls are old-fashioned enough to appreciate it when a fellow opens the door in the library or any other place.

Please do not give up on opening doors. I really appreciate it when a knight of Sparta opens a door for me; and I'm sure most of the flowers of Sparta appreciate it too.

DOLORES LEE NASO, ASB 1391

Women, Bless 'Em

An open letter to the San Jose State student body:

The members of Tau Delta Phi wish to express their support of John Shockley, one of our members, who has picked up the gauntlet of challenge so carelessly and thoughtlessly thrown down by Mr. Nash.

It is our opinion that Mr. Nash's views on the place of women in our modern society are misanthropic, medieval and malodorous. We desire to see them proven so in open debate, as proposed by John Shockley.

We feel that such unnatural, undemocratic, and unenlightened views are not worthy of one who calls himself a Spartan. Certainly one who has been exposed to the broadening influences of higher education at San Jose State college should have abandoned such a philosophy.

Although we do not favor the gentler sex in the tower, we heartily endorse them in all other respects!

The members of Tau Delta Phi, RODGER OVER, ASB 79 Grand Magistrate

Graduate Now Bacteriologist

Lois Lindberg, former San Jose State student, recently has been employed as a bacteriologist for the California State department of Health at Berkeley, according to Dr. Wilbur Swanson, professor of bacteriology at State.

"Only the best students end up in the Berkeley health department," said Dr. Swanson. Miss Lindberg graduated from this college with a bachelor of science degree.

Mayrene Kearney, also a State graduate, is working in the same position for the CSDPH at Alameda, he added.

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

By GEORGE NALE

IT'S A BIG 'UN

This weekend is a big one for students and the campus. It will be highlighted by two events, the National judo tournament Friday and Saturday and the Spring Bowl game Friday afternoon at Spartan stadium.

The National judo tournament comes to the college as somewhat of a surprise. It is the first national tournament to be held at Sparta and the first national intercollegiate judo tournament to be held in the United States in the more than 50 years of competition in this country.

Fans of both sports, or those who have never seen a judo match and would like to see the best, will have a full day Friday. They can start at 3 o'clock in the afternoon with the Spring Bowl game.

There they will see two evenly-matched football teams battle it out for little more than the practice they get. These teams will have different rooting sections, women for the gold team and men for the white team. The rooters displaying the best spirit will receive a trophy. Either AMS or AWS, depending upon who wins, will keep the trophy for the ensuing year.

Phi Epsilon Kappa, men's PE fraternity, is largely responsible for the planning and carrying out of activities associated with the Spring Bowl. It runs a poster contest to increase participation and spirit, plans and carries out half-time and pre-game activities, and makes arrangements for the separate rooting sections.

There will be a break between approximately 5 p.m., when the Spring Bowl game is over, and 7 p.m., when the judo tournament begins.

TOURNEY WILL HELP COLLEGE

The college has received much publicity over the inauguration of President John T. Wahlquist, and well it should. Many persons had no idea of what constituted San Jose State college or how big it was.

The fact that a national intercollegiate tournament is being held here at SJS should do just as much, athletically speaking, as the inauguration did in the way of publicity.

Approximately 200 participants will be in the tournament. Some will be from places outside the United States. They will represent many cities and towns since few teams entered have more than five members. Some clubs have entered only one man.

The California championship tourney in Spartan gymnasium a few weeks ago attracted a crowd that filled half of the seats. Some who had gone for the first time came away with a new interest in the sport. I predict that the gym will house a capacity crowd during the two days of competition this weekend.

The tournament will start at the same time Saturday night and continue until approximately 10 p.m.

Other events during the weekend are the Fresno Relays in Fresno, Fresno State in baseball here Friday and golf and tennis.

Spartans Meet Bears This Afternoon at Cal

Hoping to repeat Saturday's hard-hitting performance, San Jose State meets the University of California's baseball squad this afternoon on the Berkeley diamond.

Doug Boehner, who covered left field in the San Francisco State doubleheader, will start the game on the mound. Coach Walt Williams will shift Ron Kauffman back to center field and will most likely play Don Visconti in left field.

The locals held one win over the Bears in their only other game this season. Boehner was the winning pitcher in that contest, posting a 5-4 margin.

Williams' nine has played seven contests with CIBA teams and has won four. They defeated California, UCLA, USC and Stanford while losing two to Stanford and one to Santa Clara. The locals have a chance to even the cross-town series when they face the Broncos May 22 in the final game of the season.

Batting averages took an upward swing for the most part Saturday as Dick Brady replaced Bob Poole for hitting supremacy. Brady is currently batting at a .319 clip.

Friday the Spartans host the powerful Bulldogs of Fresno State at Municipal stadium. The contest was originally scheduled for 8 p.m., but due to difficulties will be played at 3:15 p.m.

Theta Chi in Softball Lead

The intramural softball league swings into the fourth week of action this afternoon with four contests slated for Franklin field.

At 4 p.m. Sigma Chi faces PSK on diamond one and Theta Chi meets Kappa Tau on diamond two. At 5 p.m., SAE battles DSP and at 5:30 o'clock PIKA meets ATO on diamond one.

After the first three weeks of activity, Theta Chi is leading with a 5-0 record. ATO is in a close second with 4 wins and no losses and Sigma Nu and Delta Upsilon are tied for third with 3-2 marks.

Other teams to trail the leaders are Sigma Chi, PIKA, Kappa Tau, Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Xi, Sigma Pi, Delta Sigma Phi, Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

San Francisco Frosh Down Wolf Nine, 3-2

Although they displayed some of the best pitching and fielding of the season, the Spartababes were edged by University of San Francisco's frosh baseball squad yesterday, 3-2, in the Bay city.

Dick Gillespie started the game on the mound for Coach Bill Wolf's nine, but was relieved in the third inning by Les Aaker. Both hurlers combined to limit the Don frosh to 9 scattered hits. Each team committed one error.

Collecting the three Spartababe hits were Larry Mitchell, Angelo Isquierdo and Sal Ravizza. Jim Falconi pitched the route for the winners, allowing the locals only three hits.

The freshman horsehiders climax the season this afternoon when Wes Roberts takes the mound against Santa Clara high school at the high school diamond.

Although Coach Wolf's first-year diamondmen have had a mediocre season, the freshmen must be given credit for the wonderful spirit they have shown throughout the year.

JIM FOSTER, former captain of the 1952 Northern California Judo Champion team, will be seen in action this weekend at the National AAU Judo tournament to be held in Spartan gym. Foster has been injured most of this season, and has seen little action. He is a first degree black belt holder competing in the 180 lb. division. He is a police major at State.

Netmen Down San Francisco

Sparta's varsity tennis team won its fourth consecutive match yesterday as they downed the University of San Francisco 5-4 at USF.

The Hugh Mumby coached netmen lost their first three singles matches but singles wins by Phil Latimer and George Bill gave them new life and they went on to win as Butch Krikorian and Jim Austin scored a doubles win over their opponents.

The Spartans won one singles and one doubles match by default. San Francisco State fell victim to the Spartans Friday afternoon by a 6-3 score.

man. He has recorded 265 markers, but dropped from third place position, which he held last week. Mike is a sophomore 200-pounder from San Jose.

The first three men by position are: ends, Lopes (351), Daehler (302), and Chiecki (265); tackles, Petersen (268), John Hamber (216) and Jack Biglen (166); guards, Kaahue (329), Tom Louderback (191) and Ed Mayer (150); centers, Jim Hague (221), Tom Yagi (135) and Leon O'Neill (96).

SPARTAN DAILY 3

Judo Tourney Rules Explained

By BOB KIRCHER

As the first National Amateur Athletic Union judo championships tournament nears, a story on the rules of judo is in order. Present contests are conducted under judo rules of the AAU which are the same rules as those used at the Kodokan, the Japanese Judo Institute in Tokyo. The Kodokan is recognized as the primary origin of judo.

There are two points of difference between the Kodokan rules and those used by the AAU. The difference, however, is in the methods of elimination only. Under AAU rules there is an option, either straight elimination or the Olympic Games penalty-point system, whereas, under Kodokan, matches are determined by straight elimination only.

The other difference lies in the fact that in Japan, the contestants are matched without regard to body weight and the eliminations proceed until the final champion is crowned. Under AAU rules, the contestants are first divided into four weight divisions with the winners of the respective divisions competing to determine the final champion. The final outcome of the two systems is the same though the methods used are different.

Contests in the forthcoming AAU tourney are ten minutes in length unless a point is scored and the match won in less time.

A winner is declared under the following conditions, according to the National Tournament Rules committee:

- I. If a contestant is thrown so that he strikes the mat on his back with a strong force, provided that the throw is made with good form, a point is scored which wins the match.
- II. If a contestant is held on his back under control for 30 seconds, a point is scored and the match won. If a half point has been scored previously, the required time is reduced to 20 seconds.
- III. If a contestant is choked until he resigns the bout or becomes unconscious, a point is scored and the match is won.
- IV. If a contestant is forced to resign the match because a joint is endangered, a point is scored.

Pole-Vaulter Leads Fresno To CCAA Win

San Francisco, May 4 (UP)—A Fresno pole vaulter today held the record for what was possibly the highest collegiate leap of the year.

Fred Barnes went 14 feet 4 1/2 inches in his jump in Fresno Saturday to help his team take the six-way California Collegiate Athletic association track and field championships.

The final totals were: Fresno State, 62; Pepperdine, 38 1/2; San Diego State, 37; Los Angeles State 14; Cal Poly, 10; and Santa Barbara, 3 1/2.

In Monterey, Menlo junior college captured the Northern California Junior college track championship with a total of 67 points Saturday. East Contra Costa was second with 28 points, followed by Monterey Peninsula with 23 1/2. Marin was last with 12 1/2.

Need Women For Swimming

With warm weather taking over spring quarter, the Women's Athletic Association is extending an invitation to San Jose State women to join the swim club. Both synchronized and competitive swimming are being offered to enable students to select their preference.

The group meets today at 3:30 p.m. in the women's pool. There are no membership fees, dues, or admission to the pool.

Last Day for Barbeque Ticket Buying--Larson

Today is the last day to buy tickets for the annual AWS-WAA barbeque get-together, according to Carol Larson, AWS president. Tickets for the barbeque, to be held Wednesday afternoon from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock in the Women's gym, are priced at 50 cents and include dinner, entertainment and sports for those attending. They may be obtained under the Library Arch or in the Women's gym from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Peddle pushers will be appropriate dress, according to Miss Larson. Dinner will consist of hamburgers, trimmings, salad and dessert. Entertainment will be supplied by acts and comical routines.

Volleyball and swimming facilities will be open and community singing will be held. Girls who are planning to attend are asked to bring ukeleles with them, Miss Larson added.

The 14 candidates for AWS offices will be introduced at the barbeque and will each give a one-minute talk.

Dean Helen Dimmick and Mrs. Izetta Prichard will attend the party as AWS sponsors, while the WAA will be represented by advisers Dr. Eleanor Coombe and Margaretta Fristoe.

IRC Leaders Named by Polk

International Relations club committee chairman for the remainder of the school year were appointed yesterday, by Lon Polk, president.

Program chairman is Ed Cox, while Pat Neary is in charge of social affairs and Andrew Quinn is responsible for publicity.

Other IRC officers are Darrell Reep, vice president; Myrna Watrous, secretary, and Anton Howard, treasurer.

Dr. George Bruntz, professor of history and political science, is adviser to the club.

EPT To Hold Joint Meeting

San Jose State's Rho chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau, national industrial arts fraternity, will participate in a joint initiation to be held in Stockton May 16, reports Sandy Gum, president of the local group.

Santa Barbara college, San Jose State, Chico State, and Fresno State will attend the initiation. The affair will be held at Fresno State college.

According to a letter received from Fresno, the guest speaker for the occasion will be Wesley South, state director of vocational education.

Printed programs for the event are being prepared in the college printing shop by Stuart Corey, Joe Marlaft, and Gum, printing students.

Award-Winning Manuscripts Displayed at Cal Art School

James D. Warnock, composition and creative writing instructor at State, revealed that Bender-award-winning manuscripts, written by him in 1949, are currently on display at the California School of Fine Arts.

These yearly awards were set up in the memory of Albert M. Bender, founder of the San Francisco Art association, upon his death in 1940. Friends donated $40,000 as a memorial to him and established the award, said Warnock.

Awards are given each year to outstanding painters, sculptors, photographers and writers. This year the foundation ran out of money, so they have set up the exhibit instead, according to Warnock.

Warnock received a $1,200 cash award in 1949 for articles written while he was a graduate student at Stanford university.

PES Invites Eligible Men

Phi Eta Sigma, national vower division men's scholastic fraternity, has sent invitations to 16 men who have qualified for membership, William Dusel, faculty adviser, revealed.

The old and new members will meet tomorrow in Room B-9.

To qualify for membership, a student must have attained a 2.5 average for the preceding quarter's work. Any lower division men who believe they are eligible for membership but did not receive invitations may contact Dusel, he said.

The sixteen eligible members are Martin Brinkmann, Charles DeCarli, Donald G. Dumas, Robert E. Fisher, Robert Flanagan, Jimmie Lee Fry, John Monser, Stanley Nixon, Masakazu Ota, Joseph Sandoval, Clifford Schmidt, Ben Stone, Reginald Swanson, Kenneth Wiersema, Gerald Worth and Glenn James.

At the first meeting of the spring quarter the following officers were elected: Joseph Evans, president; Alan Hugo, vice-president; Charles Givens, secretary; Larry Krebsbach, treasurer; and Robert Johnson, chapter historian and correspondent.

Vet Certificates

Today is the deadline for Korean veterans to fill out their monthly certificates, the Admissions office announced yesterday.

Vets are instructed to go to the Admissions office to fill out forms.

Abundant Jobs Trouble Police

Willard E. Schmidt, director of the college Police department, announced yesterday that the department was in its usual dilemma this year in having more requests for police jobs than there are police students.

Schmidt added that police job opportunities were very good, and that some of the jobs offer starting pay of $385 and up.

Winners of the Phelan Literary contest have their work printed in Reed, campus literary magazine.

New Cable in; Phones Go Out

Several offices in the Administration building were without telephone service for two hours yesterday afternoon, according to Miss Betty Street of the Information office.

Miss Street reported that telephone company employees were laying new cable between 2 p.m. and 3 o'clock.

Affected were the Registrar's, Placement, Admissions, Graduate Manager's and Personnel offices, Miss Street said.

Rats Chew Rollers

Rats are undermining the freedom of the press, according to Daniel C. Lopez, instructor in industrial arts.

He reported entering the college print shop Thursday morning and finding large holes chewed out of the press rollers. He concluded that the glue, glycerine and molasses mixture, of which the rollers are made, appeals to the rodent taste.

TV Opens New Printing Field

Television offers many opportunities in typography, according to Daniel Lopez, printing instructor.

Lopez said, "T.V. offers an opportunity to bring 'good' typography before the public."

In the college's production last Saturday, "Trumpet of a Prophecy," the title that flashed on the screen was set by J. Wendell Johnson, associate professor of drama, and a printing student, Emil Yaich.

Y Group Party Helps Center

Student Y members will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Y, 272 S. Seventh street, for a "Stick & Lick" party.

Main event will be recreational activities, reported Marian McLellan, publicity chairman.

The activities are to aid Public Health week in connection with the San Jose Adult and Child Guidance center, Miss McLellan explained.

Singing, volleyball and refreshments will be some of the activities offered.

Summer Camp Jobs Available

Representatives of two summer camps will be seeking students for summer jobs during interviews in the Placement office this week.

Camp Laurel, in the Santa Cruz mountains, will send a representative to the campus tomorrow, Mrs. Nancy Diez, Part-time Placement office secretary, announced yesterday.

A swimming instructor, craft instructor, cook and cook's helper are needed, Mrs. Diez said.

On Wednesday, the Oakland Girl Scout council will interview applicants for jobs as unit leaders and assistants, waterfront directors and assistants and boating and canoeing directors.

The Oakland camp is located in Sierra National Forest near Yosemite.

Interview appointments may be made with Mrs. Diez in the Placement office, Room 100.

Library Talk

Miss Dora Smith, librarian department head, and Marilyn Hinkley, president of the Bibliophiles, will speak to Gilroy honor students on Saturday in Gilroy, according to Miss Smith. They will tell the students about librarianship and library courses offered at State, reported Miss Smith.

AMS Council To Show Spartan Football Films

Motion pictures of Spartan football games will be shown by the Associated Men Students council today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 113, reported Eli Aguilar, AMS vice president.

Aguilar pointed out that this will be the last meeting for outgoing officers of the council. Installation of new officers will take place at the next meeting, he said.

Business Class Hears Guests

Lawrence Appleton, merchandising manager of Appleton's, will speak in the business lecture class today at 12:30 p.m., according to Earl W. Atkinson, chairman of the Division of Business. Appleton will speak on "Specialty-Store Merchandising: Past, Present, and Future."

Thursday, May 7, at 12:30 p.m., the class will hear from Kenneth S. Wood, C.P.A. with Wood & Nye, on "The Field of Accounting."

Positions Open In New Area

The Paramount unified school district is in need of teachers on elementary, junior high and high school levels, Miss Doris K. Robinson, director of teacher placement, revealed yesterday.

Paramount is a new school district which is located between Long Beach and Southgate near Los Angeles, Miss Robinson said.

There are nine elementary schools, five of which are new, a junior high school and a new high school in the district. Minimum starting salary for teachers is $3700.

Interested teacher candidates may obtain more detailed information from Miss Robinson in Room 100.

Eleven members of the thirteen-member Student Council are elected in May for one year terms.

The college was given collegiate status and authorized to grant A.B. degrees in 1921.

A discussion of the Intra-mural program also is planned for the meeting.

Art Peterson, representing the three independent teams in the Intra-mural softball schedule, last week presented a plan which would require each fraternity team to add one game with an independent team to its present schedule.

Bucky Levin, IFC representative, was to have taken this plan before the IFC, and is to report on the decision today.
